SPRING AWAKENING

"Green is my absolute favorite color," reveals Shaundra Anderson, event coordinator for premier wedding planning company B. Moore Events—making this styled shoot at the High Museum of Art a favorite to execute. Akeem Clayton Designs filled the museum's open, airy atrium with breathtaking 8-foot-tall trees to shade the luxuriously set crocodile estate table and vibrant benches. "Brides love the look of outdoor weddings but hate the risk of unknown weather," Anderson says. "We decided to bring the outside in, literally, to give them the best of both worlds."
